Attention AMCO Board members,

My name is Taylor Burns. I work for Dope Dynasty and I would like to make a public statement about our NOV. As the manager of the facility I take full responsibility for the oversight of tags on plants. I would love to be completely honest and transparent with each and everyone of you. Earlier in 2024 Ryan Smith and myself lost our 14 year old daughter unexpectedly when she went to sleep and never woke up. Since then it has been a struggle to get out of bed everyday and show up to work. As you can imagine this is any parent's worst nightmare. Since losing her Casey Wilkins has been extremely patient in letting us get back to work slowly. We have been able to be compliant and maintain the facility. When we had a walk through in June we passed with no issues. We pride ourselves on respecting the laws and the track and trace system. Any of our customers can testify we are compliant and organized with all wholesale transfers. During the time of November and December our mental health took a major toll as it was our first holiday season without our daughter and the one year mark was approaching. Ryan got extremely far behind on tagging plants. I understand this is not an excuse by any means I just want to be clear that there was no ill intent, or diversions. It was us just trying to survive the holiday season. We would never jeopardize our jobs, the jobs of our employees or our friend Casey Wilkins. I 100% misspoke when I said we had ordered tags. I genuinely thought we did. I apologize for that as well. Again this is not an excuse I just want the board to know we had and still have no intentions of breaking any laws or regulations. It was just an honest human mistake.

Thank you for your time,
Taylor Burns
